WOMEN'S OFFICER

Zoë Stockton

I'm a 2nd year Human Scientist that has held the position of women's rep for a couple of terms now and would love to take up the full responsibilities of being women's officer.

I have really enjoyed my time as rep – helping to organise the annual Women's Dinner and working with my fellow rep to change-up the sanitary product scheme which I would like to continue adapting.

As women's officer I'd like to make the role very approachable, aided by my previous training as a first responder, I'd explore instating a weekly time/place where female-identifying members of the JCR can talk-out any suggestions or problems they are experiencing.

I would also like to discuss possible changes to the format of Women's Lunches, which despite being a valuable resource, are generally poorly attended by the JCR and remedying this would be a very important element of a successful run as officer.

Claire Doyle

Hi my name is Claire and I'm a second year Engineer. Hopefully most of you know me from around college, but I would love the opportunity as women's officer to get to know more of you. I hope that my friendly, bubbling personality will make me easily approachable so that all those who identify as women in college feel comfortable sharing their opinions with me- and I will try to keep lacrosse talk to a minimum.

If elected I would like to:

- Look into making women's lunches shorter and perhaps more frequent so more people have the opportunity or time to attend.
- Work to make the claiming of money for morning after pills and pregnancy tests more anonymous so that people feel more comfortable being reimbursed.
- Work with Womfit to set up weekly circuit sessions, runs and other activities.
- Finally continue current activities already in place by our current officer.
